LEAPING FORWARD TO FREEDOM

by Rabbi Matthew D. Gewirtz

Many have remarked to me that this winter felt longer than any they remember. I certainly concur. I am fed up with bitterly cold weather, blizzards and black ice. The shortened days of the Winter Solstice, coupled with chapped hands and blistered lips, were enough for many of us to have called in sick with the legitimately diagnosed disorder called, Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD). Indeed, the impact of this past winter, punctuated with the instability of revolution in the Middle East, concern about a still unsteady economy, and the hills and valleys of daily life are enough for us to collectively welcome spring with a zestful sense of gratitude.

The ground is softening and the flowers are beginning to bud. There is renewal in the air. If the barren trees can bear new life, then we, too, can rejuvenate. We, too, are a part of the organic rhythms of nature. It is time for us to come out of hiding and embrace the opportunity to be redeemed; to feel free.

For we, Jews, Freedom is indeed the theme of the season; manifested most at our Seder tables as we sit down to celebrate Passover. Your own family recipes, I am sure, will sate your culinary yearnings; but I offer you the following three thoughts as pathways to fulfill the yearnings of your spirit as well.

Thought One: Yes, Let Us Get Out of Egypt; But Maybe the Real Idea Is to Get the "Egypt" Out of Us:

Egypt (Mitzrayim) literally translates as "narrow place". The Passover drama unfolds around the idea of God redeeming our ancestors from the bonds of Egyptian slavery. For four hundred years, we toiled in oppression, until finally, God called Moses to lead us from our misery. The intransigent Pharaoh had to be convinced through the miraculous horrors of the ten plagues to finally let the Israelite people go. But the band of slaves, ironically enough, had to be convinced as well. They had become accustomed to the "narrow" conditions. They lived in misery, but they had become used to what was familiar. Paradoxically, we had to be convinced to want freedom from slavery in Egypt.

We are no longer slaves in Egypt. But that does not mean that we are necessarily free. I believe that all of us deal, in one way or another, with feeling enslaved from within. Egypt/slavery manifests itself in many forms: jealousy, negative judgment, envy, fear, addiction, apathy, pessimism, guilt; to name a few. During this Passover Season, as we read about how difficult it was for our ancestors to leave uncomfortable, yet familiar oppression, we might want to think about releasing ourselves from the bonds of self-afflicted slavery. Indeed, we may want to not only read the Haggadah as an ancient story, but as one which is calling us to strive for freedom now. May we recount the story of redemption from Egypt and at the same time, may we have the courage to get the Egypt out of us.

Thought Two: Do Not Celebrate the Defeat of Your Enemies: They, Too, Are My Children:

The most dramatic moment of redemption happens at the Sea of Reeds. The Israelites are led through the split sea to freedom, only to turn around and watch as their taskmasters, led by the evil Pharaoh, are annihilated by the enveloping waters. Four hundred years of slavery are over, and the enemy is dead. The Israelites are victorious because of God's miracle. And now they want to rejoice. They dance and sing wildly in celebration. Suddenly God comes to them and asks, "Why do you dance in such raucous celebration? The Egyptian taskmasters and their King may have needed to die in order for you to have been redeemed, but do not ever dance in celebration when people die; even when they are evil. They, too, are My children."

In order for us truly to be free, we need to find our way towards being as generous and as open-hearted as possible. Hiding behind a disguise of puffed up strength may feel right and good, but ultimately, it is self-defeating. Humility and awareness; openness and empathy, lead to freedom of the spirit. We must stand up to those who are out to destroy the good in the world. We need to survive and sustain ourselves and our People. But getting so lost in our anger and pain that we want others to suffer will ultimately reduce us to the level of the evil we detest. We were once strangers in a strange land. That experience must impel us to always want to understand the "other" as self. Hating is a burden which will only weigh us down. Let us celebrate our grand traditions, but not the suffering of others.

Leslie Y. Sporn*((continued))Thought Three: Have the Courage to Take a Leap of Faith:

Everyone thinks that the sea was split simply because Moses placed his staff in the ocean. However, the Rabbis of Old teach that the Sea did not split immediately. Our Sages teach that the waters raged; and the waves were sharp like razor blades. Moses firmly placed his staff in the water, but nothing miraculous happened. That is until a character named Nachshon took a biblically famous leap of faith into the treacherous waters. God was not going to redeem the Israelite People unless the People were willing to work in partnership with the Divine to redeem themselves. Nachshon understood that becoming free took courage, fortitude and will. He was the first one in our history to understand that miracles do not necessarily come from heaven, but from our own empowered ability to be a part of the process of redemption.

Like Nachshon, sometimes we have to reach down just a bit more deeply to find our courage to be part of the redemptive process. We, Jews, do not believe that God will just swoop down and mitigate our problems. We might want to take our own metaphorical leap of faith and know that once we put ourselves in the mixture called life, we have the possibility of finding our God-given ability to overcome; to succeed; to be free.

As the Winter Season thaws, may we find the ability and the foresight to know that just like nature blooms with hope and warmth, we, too, can find that same ability to rejuvenate and renew. May all of our dreams and hopes spring eternal.

Lauren, Jake, Natalia and Sadie join me in wishing you a happy and healthy Passover Season.

EDUCATION

Camp TBJ...The Happiest Place Under the Sun! June 27th – August 18th

While it is often said “Childhood is a Journey Not a Race,” our goal at Camp TBJ is to embrace this journey and make it the most joyful, fun, and memorable time imaginable for each and every camper...while building a rock solid foundation for all the childhood experiences that follow.

We have designed an 8-Week Creative Calendar of Special Events that is unmatched anywhere! On a daily basis, our camp will be buzzing with an array of Exciting Themes, Athletics, Music, Gymnastics, Dance, Creative Arts, Discovery Nature, Outdoor Adventures, Yoga, Tae Kwon Do, Super Science, Photography, Water Park Activities, Entertainers, Magic, Puppet Shows, Exotic Animals and many other well-kept surprises!

Both our staff and programming reflect our tremendous commitment to your children. Our total focus is providing the most age appropriate, exciting, challenging and adventurous programming for campers, ages 14 months through Kindergarten. At Camp TBJ, sports and games focus on fun, skill acquisition and development and positive group dynamics.

Our enthusiasm is at an all time high, as we eagerly prepare for...“The Magic of Camp TBJ!” If you have any questions about your child’s camp placement for the summer of 2011 please feel free to contact me at 973-379-3177 or mfeingold@tbj.org. I would love to share the Camp TBJ philosophy with you.

Director, Camp TBJ

Parents of Religious School Students

You should have already received the Religious School Registration form(s) for your family for the 2011-2012 school year. We strive to accommodate your requests, but in order to provide the optimal educational setting we must limit class size. Monday/Tuesday requests will be fulfilled on a first-received basis this year. If you have not yet returned your forms, please do so today. Contact alenihan@tbj.org with any registration questions you may have.

From the time our children are babies, we are planning for their futures. Part of this planning experience includes the creation of a strong and solid educational, moral and spiritual foundation. A foundation so well built, so unyielding, we trust it will last a lifetime.

Congregation B’nai Jeshurun provides parents with the tools which enable them to create this unshakeable foundation. It is a process which begins the first time you step into the building. Whether it’s sharing a Shabbat Scavenger Hunt with Rabbi Matt, Shabbat Music with Cantor Stahl or Rabbi Reimer, or Tot Shabbat and weekly Hebrew with Rabbi Karen — the bonds and attachments are forming. Your children begin to feel “at home” in their classrooms, on the playground, in the Chapel or in the Sanctuary. The seeds for a love of Judaism and connection to their Temple community have been planted.

The Clergy and ECC/Religious School Staff view our role as partners, with you, the parents. On Sunday, May 1st the Religious School Kindergarten will open their doors for a Pre-K Student Visitation. This is a unique opportunity for your Pre-K4’s Student to get a “taste” of how sweet Sunday mornings are in our Religious School Kindergarten.

Led by our teachers, Sue Bleiberg, Laurie Cohn and Gloria Baruch, each and every Religious School Sunday is special — filled with “hands on” activities which help to support and maintain your child’s love of Judaism and his/her connection to our Temple community. Remember, there is no greater gift a parent can give a child, than the warmth of community and a true strong sense of belonging.

We invite you to contact Abra Lee, Religious School Director, at 973-379-3177, alee@tbj.org, or stop by the Religious School Office during school hours.

BROTHERHOOD

It is an exciting time for TBJ and the Brotherhood. First, Purimania! was a rousing success. The Brotherhood's own Saul Simon, with his merry band of Nathan "Hamentash" Hersch, Jeff "King" Schneider and Jeremy Klein, led the Brotherhood's efforts and put on a great show. Many thanks to them and the entire Purimania! team for a great night of fun and laughs. Looking ahead, April and May will bring even more excitement.

April 10th is a huge day for the Brotherhood, beginning in the morning with TBJ's Rabbi-in-Residence, Rabbi Shmuley Boteach. Rabbi Shmuley will speak to the TBJ men about his book The Broken American Male (and How to Fix Him), in what promises to be an enlightening interactive discussion. Rabbi Shmuley believes that American men are broken. Despite having more choices and opportunity than ever, men have more feelings of failure, disappointment and jealousy. Come join us for breakfast and hear his recipe for success.

In the evening, the Brotherhood presents its first ever rock concert in the Sanctuary, featuring Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee, Dave Mason. As co-founder of the legendary group Traffic, with Steve Winwood, Mason scored their earliest hit with his song Feelin' Alright, later covered by Joe Cocker. As a musician with a long distinguished career, Mason has collaborated and performed with Jimi Hendrix, The Rolling Stones, Eric Clapton, Michael Jackson, George Harrison and Fleetwood Mac, among others. This intimate evening with The Dave Mason Band will also include many of his electrifying solo hits like We Just Disagree, Only You Know & I Know, Show Me Some Affection, Every Women, Carol King's Will You Love Me Tomorrow, and All Along the Watchtower featuring Mason's outstanding guitar work. We welcome you to support this inaugural Brotherhood concert. Help us sell this show out and raise money for worthy causes by purchasing tickets or becoming a show sponsor, which includes a private pre-show reception with Dave Mason. Details can be found at TBJ.org, under Events & Announcements, or by going to www.BrotherhoodConcerts.com.

The Brotherhood will continue to be active in May with Cinco de Mayo, Mitzvah Day and the annual End of Religious School BBQ. Please note that as always our monthly Board meetings are open to all Brotherhood members and you are encouraged to come and share your thoughts, suggestions, etc. We ask that you RSVP to Brotherhood@TBJ.org, so that we can ensure there is enough food and drink on hand, but last minute arrivals are always welcome. Please also look for the TBJ Brotherhood on Facebook and LinkedIn.

In closing, I would, as always, like to thank the Brotherhood, clergy and TBJ administration for their continuing support and guidance. We welcome your suggestions and, most importantly, your participation. Please send your ideas and questions to Brotherhood@TBJ.org.

Brotherly yours,
Craig Parker

CARING COMMUNITY

The Caring Community Committee continues to be very active visiting, cooking, and just staying close to all the members of our congregation who can't get out and come to services or wonderful Temple functions. It is always our hope that we can do more though. We need all of you to be our eyes and ears so that we can reach out to those who need assistance and support. Sometimes requests and needs exceed the scope of our committee, but we have the guidance and expertise of our Social Work Consultant Ilana Mazur and Cantor Stahl to help figure out the best way to meet these needs.

We welcome new members who would like to join us in doing mitzvot. Our suggestion box and informational literature is located outside of the Sanctuary on the Caring Community Committee table. We continue to be present at Friday night services with our striped ribbons in an effort to make all members, specifically those attending alone, feel comfortable and part of our community. This is our hope in general — that all members of our congregation really feel part of an extended family. No one should feel alone or isolated; there are so many of us who are available and get so much in return for giving just a little bit.

Cantor Stahl and our Social Work Consultant Ilana Mazur can be reached at: hstahl@tbj.org or imazur@tbj.org or at 973-379-1555. For more information about the Caring Community Committee, please contact the Committee Chairs:

Making a Good Visit

The act of Bikkur Cholim is a mitzvah. Bikkur Cholim literally means "visiting of the sick". It includes a wide range of activities performed by a group or individual to provide comfort and support to those who are ill, homebound, isolated or in some type of distress. Members of our Caring Community Committee make visits to others who are a part of this congregation. It is meaningful to those who get visits as well as to those who make them.

When making a visit to someone there are some things to keep in mind.

- ✧ Check and see when would be a convenient time .
- ✧ Try to get some information before going so that you have some idea of what to expect.
- ✧ If you are visiting a hospital or nursing home always knock before entering the room.
- ✧ Keep a pleasant demeanor. Introduce yourself and include where you are from.
- ✧ Ask the person if he or she would mind if you sat down. Do not sit on the bed.
- ✧ Don't take it personally if someone is not feeling up to a visit. You can return another time and just let them know you were thinking about them.
- ✧ Take your time and focus on the other person. Do not look at your watch. Maintain eye contact. Listen with an open heart. Be patient.
- ✧ Do not report bad news or raise upsetting subjects.
- ✧ Remember that what you say is not nearly as important as how you listen.
- ✧ If someone is sleeping, leave a note or card that you were there.
- ✧ Do not make a visit if you are not feeling well, but make sure the person knows you will not be coming and why.
- ✧ Respect the privacy of the person and what they may share with you, but if concerned about the person's well being, make sure to let a relative, staff member of a facility and/or appropriate Temple staff person know.
- ✧ Do not make any promises you cannot keep (do not say you will be back each week, if you cannot do this).
- ✧ Don't overstay a visit.

When making a visit to a TBJ member, you are reflecting the biblical value of "and you shall love your neighbor as yourself." What may seem like a little time spent with someone you may not know, truly has a deeper meaning, goes beyond what is obvious and is a significant example of a caring community.

If you know of someone who could benefit from a visitor or if you would like to be a visitor as part of our Caring Community Committee, please contact one of the following:

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

This winter, even though it was frigid outside, the Women's Association was a warm and welcoming place hosting many new and exciting events. We'd like to extend a special thank you to everyone who helped organize our programming efforts and to those who attended!

We explored the new spa at the Short Hills Hilton, we checked out all the spring fashions at Saks with a fun night of Women, Wine & Shoes. We participated in a fascinating discussion with Sharon Pomerantz on her first book Rich Boy. Thank you to Stacey Mischel and Elit Kirschenbaum for organizing! In March, we also participated in a delicious Passover-themed cooking demonstration by Susie Fishbein. We hope everyone who attended is now more prepared and excited to cook for Passover and we truly appreciate Holly Simons for opening her beautiful home. Thank you to Karen Caplan for spearheading our annual Personalized Haggadah Fundraiser. Thank you to Lauren Hollender, Kristin Sterling and Julie Katz, and a great team of volunteers who packed and delivered over 800 bags of Hamentashen for Purim to the ECC and Religious School students. Finally, we extend a special thank you to Stacy Ennis and Liz Katz and the Membership Committee for coordinating the delivery of Shabbat bags to new TBJ members.

As we look forward to the spring, we hope you'll join us on May 10th for our Annual Spring Luncheon. Jill Zarin, from Real Housewives of New York City and an author of Secrets of a Jewish Mother, will be our guest speaker.

In concluding our spring programming, the Women's Association is presenting our Annual Shabbat Service on June 3rd. This is a wonderful service, coordinated by the Women's Association in partnership with our clergy. If you are interested in participating in this service, please contact us at WA@TBJ.org.

As you have hopefully learned and experienced through this year, the Women's Association can offer you a wonderful opportunity to participate, learn, laugh and serve our greater community. Temple members and non-members are always welcome to our Board Meetings and most importantly: we always appreciate your thoughts, ideas and concerns. You can contact us at any time at WA@TBJ.org. We look forward to hearing from you and seeing you at an upcoming event!

We wish you and your families a Happy Passover!
With thanks and appreciation,

Karen Horowitz & Susie Polow
Co-Presidents

Jill Zarin

Jill Zarin is one of the busiest wives in Manhattan, juggling a jam-packed social calendar, philanthropic efforts and many new and developing business endeavors. Jill's devotion to philanthropy arises from personal experience — both her daughter and stepson have been diagnosed with arthritic diseases, and she has made it her mission to raise money and awareness of managing and living with this disease. Born and raised in Woodmere, NY, Jill graduated from Simmons College School of Retail Management. She began her career as Assistant Buyer at Filene's and grew to become the National Sales Manager/Vice President of Great American Knitting Mills Jockey Division. Jill went on to join her husband, Bobby Zarin, owner of Zarin Fabric Warehouse, an institution on New York's Lower East Side, as a marketing consultant. With over 20 plus years of hosiery experience, Jill will be launching SKWEEZ COUTURE by Jill Zarin, body shapewear, this spring. Through her expertise in textiles, Jill also recently launched her Jill Zarin Home bedding line. She is also a dedicated wife, mother, daughter and sister. Jill wrote her first book, Secrets of a Jewish Mother with her mom, Gloria Kamen, and her sister Lisa. Her credo is — You can have it all, just not at the same time!

JWI Flower Project for Mother's Day

The Women's Association has once again partnered with Jewish Women International (JWI) to honor the 30,000 women and children who will spend Mother's Day in battered women's shelters. Through the annual Mother's Day Flower Project, JWI will send bouquets of flowers, as well as beauty products from OPI Products, Inc. to 150 shelters across the United States. By participating in the Mother's Day Flower project we help provide hope for these families on this special day, and everyday, through initiatives, supported by the Flower Project proceeds, that work to educate communities, empower women and break the cycle of abuse.

For each $25 contribution, JWI will send a Mother's Day card to any woman you choose, thanking her for the inspiration to help women in need. The project is an opportunity for us to raise awareness about domestic abuse while we deliver compassion and support to women forced to live in domestic violence shelters.

To participate, pick up a flyer in the Temple Lobby, call 202-857-1300 or flowerproject@jwi.org.

MEMBERSHIP

Happy Passover To You And Your Family!

The leadership of TBJ and the Membership Committee made sure that each family in our entire congregation was individually called and wished a very happy holiday — reinforcing that we really are a family.

Last month, March 26th saw the first-ever TBJ Purimania, and what a great success it was! It was a fantastic evening of eating, drinking, dancing, carnival games, prizes and live entertainment. Our very own clergy and various members of our congregation performed. Also, the Couples' Club hosted the Family Purim Carnival on March 20th. It was another fun afternoon of carnival games and activities. A great time was had by all at both events!

By now, all of you should have received the TBJ Membership Directory for 2011. It is wonderfully handy, and we hope that you like the new, easier to read typeface. Please do take a moment to open this Directory, and reach out to friends old and new. Our community is about being in touch and keeping in touch — we hope you will use your Directory to promote good feelings among our TBJ Family.

Our annual Night of Shabbat Dinners will be held on Friday, April 29th. Join us at the Temple for a lively Shabbat Service (5:30 pm) and then continue the Shabbat spirit as a guest for dinner in a TBJ member's home or as a host for other TBJ families. We look forward to a night full of new and old friendships, and one of great warmth amongst everyone who participates! If you are interested either in hosting a family or being a guest in a member's home, please contact Laurie Goldberg at lghaber@aol.com, or send an email to nightofshabbatdinners@tbj.org.*

We have a fantastic Membership Committee, but we can always use your input and help. Do you have any ideas for recruitment, integration, or retention? Just call or send an email to membership@tbj.org we'd love to hear your ideas.

And remember, when you come to services.....
